

Bio – Adnan Zulfiqar
Senior Advisor, Lodestone Advisory Group
Collaborative Member

BIOGRAPHY

Adnan Zulfiqar is a Sharswood Fellow at the University of Pennsylvania Law School and Senior Advisor to the Lodestone Advisory Group. He brings substantial academic, private and public sector experience to the team, as well as over a decade of field experience working with communities in the Middle East, sub-Saharan Africa and South Asia. Prior to his current roles, Adnan was an attorney in the Washington, DC office of Hogan Lovells, LLP where he was a member of the Investigations, White Collar and Fraud Group, advising clients on various issues of compliance. He was also an International Legal Consultant for the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) helping advise the Republic of the Maldives on the implementation of their criminal code. Additionally, he served as Legislative Staff and Personal Aide to U.S. Senator Max Cleland, helping develop his policy on urban affairs, education and immigration. Adnan holds a Juris Doctor (J.D.) and M.A. from the University of Pennsylvania, a M.L.S. from Georgetown University and a B.A. from Emory University.